

Reception News

20th April 2018

This week

It was lovely to see how keen the children were to be back at school and share their holiday news.

This week the better weather has allowed us to spend more time outside where there have been lots of investigations into the flora and fauna and observations of spring.

The children have been revisiting sounds learnt so far in phonics and had a first look at some new tricky words. Yellow flash cards will be sent home this week.

In maths we have been investigating numbers of personal significance including our own birthdays and our family members.

Our topic this half term is Mini-beasts and we will be recounting the traditional tale of "The Three Billy Goats Gruff".

Next week

Next week we will be reading "Spinderella" by Julia Donaldson and finding out about the spider that wants to learn to count. We will be solving lots of problems throughout the story. We will also be rewarding children for having "math eyes" – spotting number and using maths in the environment.
